MASK BALL ON OGDEN STREETS

Carnival of Fun in Connection With the Autumn Leaf Fashion Show to Be Held on Saturday, Sept. 27 — Two Nights of Joy-Making, With Automobile Parade — Booster Days for the Business Houses of the City

Ogden's second annual "Autumn Leaf Fashion Show" will be held Friday and Saturday, September 26 and 27. The date was decided upon at a meeting held in the Weber club offices this afternoon when preliminary plans for an extraordinary booster celebration and carnival were announced.

Autumn leaves will be the prevailing decorations, as was the rule last year. In addition, a contract for the decorating of the city will be awarded within a few days, probably to the same company that put up the decorations last year. Merchants have been interviewed and have promised to decorate their windows in a manner that will make the windows of last September time by comparison.

The feature of the two days of merry-making will be the grand mask ball upon the streets Saturday evening following the parade. Present plans are to secure permission from the city commission to rope off Hudson avenue between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth streets, for the feature. There will be at least two bands on the street, one band to play immediately upon the completion of a selection by the other. Confetti, paper tape and all the gew-gaws of a genuine carnival will be introduced in abundance.

The automobile parade of last year will be outlasted this year. The parade will be held on Saturday night, preceding the masked ball. Autumn leaves will be used sparingly and plans are also to have every car illuminated with the committee charge will at once secure names from car owners to insure practically every car of the city being represented.

Friday night will be general promenade night. Bands will be stationed at various street corners and the crowds will be entertained by the displays in the windows. It is planned by the show to demonstrate to the people of Ogden City that the city is well able to care for the demands of even the most fastidious. Ogden manure-tured articles will be featured. In fact, it is to be a genuine buy-at-home booster's holiday.

Already Huntsville has promised to come in a body, bringing the band boys. Chairman W. E. Sanderson of the executive committee invited the Huntsville residents yesterday and the invitation was accepted with enthusiasm.

On September 17 a large delegation of Ogden people will go to Brigham to aid in celebrating Peach day and the Ogden band will be taken along. At the proper moment, the Brigham citizens will be invited to Ogden on Fashion show nights, Ogden and Brigham worked well together in the interests of Peach day and the Fashion show last year and the same, if not better, results are expected this season.

The general executive committee is made up of the following: W. E. Sanderson, chairman; Hyrum Pinney, E. T. Richardson, Fred M. Nye and Gus Wright. Committees on advertising, parade, amusements, decoration, mask ball and music are to be appointed at once in order that all plans may be made several days before the big Fashion show is to be held.

HOMESTEADER TREATED WITH FAIRNESS

Notice of an interesting decision was contained in a letter written by District Forester E. A. Sherman of the local office of the forest service to A. L. McAdams, of Grimpas, Idaho, whereby action favorable to the latter has been taken, insuring him continued possession and future title to his homestead land and improvements, as the result of the exchange and consolidation of the Idaho school lands.

A. L. McAdams settled on a tract of land on the South Fork of the Payette river, the land at the time of settlement being unsurveyed. Shortly after settlement, the Boise national forest was created and Mr. McAdams applied for the land under the Act of June 11, 1906, providing for the acquisition of forest homesteads. The tract was examined September 12, 1907, by R. V. R. Reynolds, now forest examiner in charge of forest homestead entry surveys.

Mr. Reynolds found at that time that the settler had unwittingly located his house and buildings on Section 36, on potential State school land, and therefore, not subject to homestead settlement and entry. However, the examiner was able to classify an area of 158 acres immediately adjoining and Mr. McAdams planned to move his improvements from the state land to the adjoining 158 acres of government land. Accordingly, he established his home on the government land, but his barn, store house, spring house, corrals, and other improvements, and five acres of potatoes, berries, alfalfa and grain, were across the line on Section 36, which belonged to the state. This situation continued until the spring of the present year, when the state conveyed all its unsurveyed school lands in the national forests to the government in lieu of valuable timber lands in a solid block in the northern part of the state and certain grazing lands in the southeastern portion of the state. This agreement was consummated the last of February, and Mr. McAdams at once made application for the land continuously occupied by him in section 36. Since section 36 is now government land, it is therefore subject to the forest homestead provisions, and the tract applied for was accordingly examined, classified as chiefly valuable for agriculture, and listed for entry with the department only 9.75 acres, but, owing to its improved condition, was exceedingly valuable to the settler. Mr. McAdams, being the prior applicant, will have 60 days preference right in which to amend his filing so as to exclude a portion of the 158 acres previously listed for him and to include the land in Section 36, making a total of 160 acres, completing his home unit, and securing to him full possession and right to the former state land upon which he had spent so much time and money.

Officers of the waterworks department report the water supply in the reservoirs has increased in the past 12 hours and that the big basins are nearly full.

The department has decided to change the hours for the use of water back to the time given before the present regulation was put in force. Hereafter water users east of Adams avenue will be permitted to water their lawns from 6 to 8 a. m., and from 5 to 6:30 p. m., and those west of Adams avenue may use it from 8 to 10 a. m., and from 6:30 to 8 p. m.

In case of fire alarm all users will be required to immediately shut off all lawn streams. No one is permitted to water lawns without a nozzle on the hose.

"Bud" Miller, a colored man, six months boarder at the county battle, last evening took leave of absence without consulting the sheriff. He had been a trusty for a few days which permitted him to be about the jail doing odd jobs on the outside. He made his getaway in the early part of the night.

Miller was originally charged with third degree burglary, but was subsequently permitted to plead guilty to a misdemeanor and was sentenced, June 21, to serve six months in the county jail. He had been in jail since April.

A description of the fugitive has been sent to officers in adjoining territory.

Miss Florence Whitaker has been visiting Miss Nina Winters of Garland, On Wednesday evening last a party was given in her honor at which sixty guests were entertained. Messrs. William Height and Parley Carver of Ogden were guests who rendered duets.

Two drunks were arrested this morning and neither one was able to give a name. They were booked as Richard Roe and John Doe.

Doe was found back of the Lyceum theater, dead to the world. The water from the roof, dripping over him, seemed to lull him to a sounder sleep. Roe walked into a Washington avenue saloon and fell over asleep. He had to be lifted in and out of the patrol.

WILD WEST IS SEEN IN A PARADE

The Oklahoma Ranch Wild West show arrived in Ogden from Salt Lake this morning in a special train of 13 cars and is showing this afternoon and evening at Grant avenue and Twenty-seventh street.

The business districts were paraded at 11:30 o'clock by the Indians, cowboys, cowgirls and Cossacks all mounted and costumed. In the parade, a rather tame affair, there were three bands, not including the Turkish musicians. The features of the parade were the prairie schooner pulled by a team of genuine oxen and a steam callopie that was not quite in tune.

With the show is a band of remarkably good looking horses and the riders all appear to be much at home on their mounts.

OFFENDERS ARE BEFORE THE JUDGE

Judge Reeder had such a grist to his morning mill that the spectators' gallery was deprived of one row of seats to accommodate the various upfortunates who had been gathered up to the tolls since Saturday morning. Sunday, followed by a holiday, was responsible for twelve drunks, two or three other petty offenders. The judge was generous and the following suspended sentences were given: James Jensen, Charles Renshaw, John Green, Ben Wood, L. P. Dugan, H. C. Wright and John Jones.

William Chapple and William Chapple, Jr., father and son, pleaded guilty and their cases were taken under advisement. According to the son he was not "what you might call drunk" but was arrested when he tried to pacify the father who was addressing some uncomplimentary remarks to men in a saloon.

M. Von Rookhuyzen, charged with offensive conduct by striking his wife, entered a plea of not guilty and the case was set for tomorrow morning when all the witnesses could be on hand.
